

Cold v2

Black Country Communion (Hughes, Bonham, Bonamassa)

INTRO	(fade in) h h open // h A G# G e F#h 4x h A h A e F#h h A h A e F#G
Verse1	h A G# G e F#h Take my eyes Burn down the Sun how can you be so cold? You left me here all hope is gone where is the life I sold h A G# G e F# h h A G# G e F#h I pray the dawn will break this spell what will become of me? It took my breath so hard I fell lost in a shell, ghostly
Chorus1	e h e h And the rain falls down On this lonely child And I could not feel the fire e h G F# And I realize this was meant to be and I need some timeto grieve
Chorus2	h G e A h and you fade so slowly now all that shines is gold and I feel I'm dyin' how can you be so cold? when the sky is fallin' now that you're growin' old h G G F# e and I feel I'm dyin' how can you feel so cold?
Interlude	h A h h A h D h A h h A h G 2x h A G# G e F# h 2x
Verse2	h A G# G e F#h So slowly wake me from my sleep here in this house I dwell and I don't delay the wound so deep down in this livin' hell
Chorus3	e h e h And the rain falls down on this lonely child And I could not feel the fire e h G F# And I realize this was meant to be And I need some time to grieve oh
Chorus4	h G e A h And you fade so slowly now all that shines is gold And I feel I'm dyin' how can you be so cold? (Beginn Solo) when the sky is fallin' now that you're growin' old h G G F# G F# and I feel I'm dyin' how can you feel so, how can you feel so cold?
SOLO	G A H (A) 4x
Chorus5	e h e h And the rain falls down on this lonely child - and I could not feel the fire e h G F# And I realize this was meant to be - and I need some time to grieve
Chorus6	h G e A h And you fade so slowly now all that shines is gold And I feel I'm dyin' how can you be so cold? when the sky is fallin' now that you're growin' old h G G F# h A G# G e F# h and I feel I'm dyin' how can you feel so (cold?)
Outro	h A G# G e F# h 4x (Blablablaba)